Message from Ted

In her essay - It's Been Three Years. Can You Hear Me Now?

Tessa Lena makes the following statement: "I have found that oftentimes, it takes very rare and special courage to be so in love with intellectual integrity, knowledge of the world, and the truth, that one would be willing to let go of any dogma, however ingrained, and chase that knowledge. And when that happens, love shows up in an unstoppable way.”

I witnessed a beautiful example of this rare and special courage last Friday when Dr. Roger Hodgkinson admitted in front of more than 100 participants that he hadn't done his homework regarding childhood vaccines. Dr. Hodgkinson shared that he looked upon organizations such as Vaccine Choice Canada and Children's Health Defence as “anti-vaxxers” and had little time for such nonsense. Hodgkinson then acknowledged that the travesty of the COVID injections awakened him to the tyranny within the pharmaceutical industry such that he needed to question the claims of safety, efficacy and necessity of all vaccines.

I celebrate this moment because I believe this example of courage and love for integrity, knowledge and truth is what is needed if we are to move forward as a community. Last week I wrote about the massive betrayal we have experienced, most especially in the last three years. The only way I can imagine moving forward and rebuilding trust with governments, institutions and family and friends is when more of what Dr. Hodgkinson did on Friday occurs. Trust will only be rebuilt when such courage and integrity becomes common.

Following the meeting I wrote Dr. Hodgkinson. I said - “Thank you for your acknowledgement of your shift in your perceptions about the safety of childhood vaccines. Your willingness to admit this was moving, not only for me, but for many on the call who have been voices in the wilderness for many years.”

He responded immediately with the picture above and the words - “Unpleasant taste – but had to be eaten in public!” May more people have the courage and humility to admit the error of their ways so we can get on with rebuilding our communities.

A Notable Anniversary

Message from Edda

The top item of the week is the Simpsonwood Meeting 23 years ago this week. Simpsonwood set the stage for the medical/industrial/pharmaceutical complex to actively suppress all evidence of vaccine harms. For the past two decades, they have known that these drugs were devastating children's health, yet they have done everything in their power to deny, obfuscate and cover up the massive harms vaccines have inflicted on the world's children. The gaslighting of vaccine injured families & the vicious attacks on any doctor or researcher who spoke about vaccine injuries & destruction of their careers, all started back then and has picked up steam these past two decades. We all saw it play out in an extreme form during covid.

The state of children's health today is close to total collapse. With 1 in 36 children on the autism spectrum how will we survive as a species if we are knowingly allowing them to be harmed? The blessing of covid is that the massive injuries inflicted by these shots are helping to inform and alert large numbers of people to open their eyes and minds to the decades long mass poisoning the medical system has inflicted on humanity. It's a big wake up call.

Children's Health Defense is hosting a Two Day Rally on June 7 & 8 to Mark the 23rd Anniversary of the Closed-Door "Simpsonwood Meeting" during which vaccine industry leaders and public health officials consciously chose to conceal evidence of the link between mercury-based thimerosal vaccines and autism.

The event will culminate in a plea to Congress to repeal the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, which gave vaccine manufacturers legal immunity for any "damages arising from a vaccine-related injury or death."

Invisible Fences: A New Documentary

Invisible Fences is a documentary in production which shines a light on the people impacted by covid vaccine injury. It begins with the story of Kristin Ditzel, a doctor of Chinese Medicine in Nelson, BC, who was severely injured by her first covid vaccine. She continues to suffer debilitating symptoms to this day. Her best friend, Jaimie Killen, began documenting Kristen's journey and her quest for help. They teamed up with Nathan Beninger and are raising funds to travel and interview vaccine injured people around the world in order to share their stories through the power of film.

Introducing Electroculture as a Gardening Method

Anna Cairns, a VCC member and avid gardener, was recently retained to edit a book on electroculture.

Electroculture is a gardening method that uses electricity to promote healthy plant growth. As Anna learns, she is eager to share about this technique. How effective is it, what science supports it, how long has it been in use, can we use it easily and inexpensively at home, what results can we realistically expect, and more. She will answer questions and share resources just in time for you to experiment on your garden this Spring.

Shawna Sundal

The Irreplaceable Parent Project (TIPP)

Shawna is the Executive Director of TIPP who are focused on protecting and promoting parental rights at this time when parental rights have been so systematically eroded and marginalized across Canada. The TIPPING point for this and which is now Shawna's main focus is how MAID is being tailored for teens and children to the point where a government decision can authorize the euthanasia of our teens and children with little regard for parental rights or objections. In our LIVE call with Shawna we will be talking about the shocking encroachment of MAID and how parents are being relegated to little more than guardians who are under government authority and jurisdiction.
